

The Institute

Directory of Academic Physicists

FOR some years, under the chairmanship of Prof. Ralph P. Winch, the Membership Committee of the American Association of Physics Teachers has been gathering names and preparing a "Directory of Teaching Physicists in Colleges and Universities" for use of the committee members and institutional representatives. It was agreed last fall that, since these names would be very useful in up-dating and improving the coverage of the Physics Section of the National Register of Scientific and Technical Personnel, which is maintained by the American Institute of Physics under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation, it would be proper to collect the names of academic physicists under the Register project. By this means, it was possible also to reach more colleges and to put in greater effort to obtain nearly 100% response. The names listed are those provided by the heads or chairmen of the physics departments and do not necessarily include physicists who are in administrative positions or who are in other departments.

Because of the general usefulness of a list of names of academic physicists arranged by colleges or universities, the Institute proposed that the Directory be printed in booklet form under the joint sponsorship of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics. The compilation and preparation of copy were carried out by the Special Services Department of the Institute. With Prof. Winch's agreement, the work was renamed Directory of Academic Physicists. An initial distribution is being made by Prof. C. Luther Andrews, who is now chairman of the AAPT Membership Committee, to the heads of departments who have furnished the information. Copies will be sent by the AIP to others interested as long as the supply lasts. If the demand is excessive, the booklet will need to be reprinted and will be available at a small charge. Single copies may be obtained by writing to the Public Relations Department, American Institute of Physics, 335 East 45th Street, New York 17, N. Y.
